Colonel Lowden the Only Candidate for Governor Present—Northern Counties Pledged to Stand Together.

Rockford, Sept. 1.—Several hundred Republicans attended a love feast of the 11th, 12th and 13th congressional districts held here this afternoon. Every county in the three districts was represented. Col. Frank O. Lowden was the only prospective candidate for governor on the grounds, but Dineen, McLean, Sherman, Hamlin and Warner were represented by friends. W. H. Stead, of Ottawa, candidate for attorney general and Daniel Hogan, of Mound City, candidate for secretary of state, were the only avowed candidates on the grounds. The program included an address of welcome by Mayor Jackson and speeches by prominent men from different counties. Resolutions pledging the northern counties to stand together were adopted. Permanent organization was formed and an executive committee appointed. The program prohibiting endorsement of candidates was strictly adhered to. Speeches were made by several prominent men. A committee of five from each of the sixteen counties represented was appointed as a central committee. After adjournment the executive committee elected Charles H. Marsh chairman. About 500 delegates were present from all parts of the northern district of the state.

OPPOSE WASHINGTON.

Boston, Sept. 1.—The Suffrage League of Boston, a negro organization, to night adopted the following: Inasmuch as Booker T. Washington has glorified the revised constitution of the south; minimized Jim Crow and attacked the wisdom of the 14th and 15th amendments to the constitution; deprecated primary importance of the ballot; reached to colored people silent submission to intolerable conditions; and makes his people the byword and laughing stock before the world, he is not a fit leader for the colored race and no president who recognizes him as a political leader should receive the colored vote of the north.

"Therefore, since President Roosevelt has given him charge of appointing all negroes of whatever state in the union and has made him negro advisor as to all policies affecting colored Americans, in the interests of our race we call upon President Roosevelt to dispense with Washington as our political spokesman."

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 1.—The early session of the National Association of Letter Carriers' convention today was devoted to a spirited contest over seating delegations from New York and Chicago regarding the next meeting place. C. McCartney Caught Between Tender and Boiler of Locomotive Which Plunges Over an Embankment.

Peoria, Sept. 1.—Head brakeman C. McCartney, of the Iowa Central railroad, will die as the result of injuries sustained in a wreck near midnight last night. A freight locomotive jumped the track, going down an embankment and landing upside down. McCartney was caught between the tender and the boiler. His left leg was cut off and his body horribly bruised and burned.

The wreck took place at Bartlett station, four miles west of here. The engine, attached to a heavy freight, was doubling a hill. One section of the train had been brought over and the crew was bringing the other when the engine left the track.

All the members of the crew jumped except McCartney, who was caught between the tender and the boiler before he could make the spring.

Following the parade the grand commandery opened in full state in the Masonic temple.

The election of officers will take place to-morrow. Alonzo S. Wildeman, of Belleville, will be elected grand commander. There was a military ball in the coliseum to night, to which 2,000 invitations had been issued.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 1.—Notwithstanding the combined efforts of window glass manufacturers and workers to keep all factories closed until late in the year, the Van Cleve works at Kane, Pa., resumed in full to day. The workers are members of the Window Glass Workers of America and their action, it is said, will result in their expulsion for violation of orders. As a result there will be at least one non-union window glass factory, which will be the first in the history of the industry since the powerful organization of skilled glass workers was formed more than a quarter of a century ago.

THE TURKISH VERSION

OF REPORTED ATTEMPT ON LIFE OF MEGELSEN.

Pistol was Fired in the Air by a Man Returning From a Marriage Fete—Consul's Carriage Passing at the Time.

Washington, Sept. 1.—Chekib Bey, the Turkish minister, has received from the minister of foreign affairs at Constantinople a dispatch giving the Turkish version of the reported attempt on the life of Vice Consul Magelsen at Beirut. After declaring the report of the assassination of Magelsen absolutely false the dispatch gives a version of the affair practically the same as has been told before in dispatches from Turkey. It says the pistol was fired by a man returning from a marriage fete; that the shot was fired in the air, and that it happened just as Magelsen was passing in his carriage. This, the dispatch says, led the vice consul to believe an attempt had been made against his life. The man who did the shooting has already been delivered to the judicial authorities. Chekib Bey's dispatch also asserts order and tranquility prevails in Beirut. The information contained in the cablegram has been furnished to Minister Leishman at Constantinople by the Turkish minister of foreign affairs and to Secretary Hay by the Turkish minister here.

FIRST OFFICIAL NEWS.

Washington, Sept. 1.—The first official dispatch coming directly from Beirut regarding the Magelsen affair, received by Secretary Hay, was dated Aug. 31 and signed by Consul Raynald. It says: "The attempt on Magelsen's life failed utterly. It was a narrow escape, but the vice consul suffered no injury."

Constantinople, Sept. 1.—The porte has notified Leishman five arrests were made at Beirut in connection with the shooting which led to the report Magelsen, United States vice consul, was assassinated. Turkish officials continue to insist no attempt was made on the vice consul's life and claim the whole story originated in a false joke fired on the occasion of a native marriage and in accordance to customs. Leishman, however, refuses to accept such explanation without conclusive proof. The judicial investigation continues.

The government has imposed a personal or land tax on the entire population of the empire over the age of 18. The tax is on different classes and ranges from 80 cents to $300 each annually. This is regarded in some quarters to be in nature of provision for war.

BAD ON STOCKMEN

Will be Deprived of Free Transportation Home From Shipping Centers.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—Stockmen throughout the west, who have for many years been enjoying free transportation from their homes and shipping centers, will find this privilege curtailed after Jan. 1, 1904. Executive officers of western lines met here to day and agreed that after the date mentioned they would discontinue issuance to stockmen of return transportation, thereby compelling them to pay their fare to their homes after having come to shipping centers with stock. A large number of western states have enacted laws compelling railroads to issue passes to men in charge of stock cars and the roads will now investigate the possibility of a new regulation violating those laws. The change is proposed largely for the purpose of curtailing the operations of ticket scalpers. Stockmen's passes have always been a source of considerable income to scalpers, who have employees at various stockyards buying up return transportation.

The Cleveland challenge gold cup race at the inter-city matinee to day was won by The Monk in 2:11 1/4.

Interest centered in the exhibition of Lou Dillon, champion trotter, in an attempt to lower trotting to wagon record of 2:04, held by herself. Washington, Sept. 1.—The monthly report to day shows: Public debt, total, less cash in treasury, $22,824,357; decrease for the month, $6,098,961. A GENERAL INSURRECTION

PROCLAIMED BY MACEDONIAN COMMITTEE

The New Outbreak Headed by Famous Leaders—Reports of Massacres by Turks Continue to be Received.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Sept. 1.—The Macedonian revolutionists awaited the anniversary of the sultan's accession to proclaim the long anticipated general insurrection in northern Macedonia, the proclamation of which was issued to day signed by all members of the insurgent general staff. The new outbreak is headed by the famous Macedonian leaders, General Zencoff, president of the Macedonian committee, and Colonel Jankoff, who was wounded in the rising of 1902. The new territory covers the district in the valley of Struma at the base of the Rhodope mountain chain and to the north of the river Vardar.

News of severe fighting is still coming in. At the village of Armenli, after a day's fighting, Turkish troops in the night time massacred the population of 180 men and 200 women. The Turks have also massacred the inhabitants of Velest. Insurgent Leader Grueff, in a letter to Inspector Himli Pacha, demanded that he prevent the barbarous acts of Turkish soldiers and Bashli Bazuks, otherwise revolutionaries will massacre all Turkish inhabitants. The town of Malkoternovo is reported to be in a state of anarchy, Turks plundering houses and committing unspeakable atrocities on the women.

ATTACKED A VILLAGE.

Sofia, Sept. 1.—A strong force of Turkish infantry, cavalry and artillery recently attacked the village of Stoliwo, northward of Malkoternovo, occupied by insurgents. Later the Turks entered the place and massacred the entire population, destroying the village.

Prince Ferdinand, of Bulgaria, arrived at Enugrode, Bulgaria, but he has been joined by Premier Petroff. The prince is expected to remain there some time.

A local newspaper announced this afternoon that a general insurrection had been proclaimed in the districts of Turkey across the southern frontier of Bulgaria. The rising is headed by the famous Macedonian leaders, General Zencoff, president of the Macedonian committee, and Colonel Jankoff.

SULTAN'S ACCESSION.

Constantinople, Sept. 1.—Celebration here of the anniversary of the sultan's accession passed off without any untoward incident. The sultan held the customary reception and received congratulations of representatives of the powers and state dignitaries. This evening the city was brilliantly illuminated.

Constantinople, Sept. 1.—An official report says 300 insurgents were killed or wounded during fighting which occurred last week in the valley of Mogastina.

The porte sent a memorandum to the Austrian and Russian ambassadors here pointing out at a recent mass meeting of Macedonians in Sofia it was decided to send fresh bands into Macedonia, also calling attention to the fact committees in Bulgaria are supplying insurgents with arms and ammunition by means of ships which land their cargoes on the coast in the vicinity of Inlada.

Consular dispatches from Prishtina near the Serbian frontier, confirm reports Christian villages in the district of Didra, fifty-four miles from Monastir, and Cicevo were pillaged and burned. The inhabitants fled. It is not stated whether Albanians or Bulgarians were perpetrators of the outrages.

In spite of apparent gravity of the general situation optimism prevails in Turkish official circles. In the course of audiences which the German and Russian ambassadors had with the sultan for the purpose of recommending more energetic action and intrusting to Turkish commanders in chief full directions of military operations the sultan replied he preferred to retain control at Constantinople.

ARMY OF PHILIPPINES.

St. Paul, Sept. 1.—The Army of the Philippines to day selected St. Louis as the place of the next reunion. In an address of some length Gen. Irving Hale delivered a glowing eulogy on the work of the army in the Philippines and then discussed pending legislation of the convention. Secretary Schmitt's report showed that during the past year new camps have been organized in fourteen states. The report of the committee on a new ritual was adopted. Letters from President Roosevelt, General Miles and Admiral Dewey were read.

KING EDWARD.

Vienna, Sept. 1.—King Edward to day visited Capuchin church and its vaults, in which are the sarcophagi enclosing the remains of members of the Austrian royal family. Later he was entertained at luncheon at the British embassy, at which Emperor Francis Joseph and a number of notable personages were present. Complicated speeches were exchanged. A family dinner was given this evening by Archduchess Maria Joseph, the empress and King Edward being present.

JAILER HELD PRISONER

Mob Falls in Attempt to Lynch a Colored Man at Shawneetown.

Shawneetown, Ill., Sept. 1.—A mob of fifty masked men went to the jail here to day and demanded Jailer Galloway to turn over to them John Griffin, colored, under arrest for an attempted assault on Mrs. Joseph Hobbs, white, near her own home. Griffin had been frightened away by the woman's screams and was arrested soon afterwards. Galloway armed himself and warned the mob that any effort to force the jail would be at their peril. The mob made several ineffectual attempts to force the jail doors, finally dispersing.

Many colored people are taking sides with Griffin, though some of them fearing a race riot have left town. The negro will be taken to Carmi for safe keeping.

AMATEUR DETECTIVE

Is Badly Beaten by His Prospective Prisoner and will Die.

New Albany, Ind., Sept. 1.—As the result of his effort in the capacity of an amateur detective to run down a bill raiser, Charles Marshall, of Rego, was so badly beaten by his prospective prisoner that he will die. Marshall recently joined an amateur detective association and received a letter from Chicago offering to sell $500 in genuine currency for $200. Marshall arranged a meeting with the man, who gave the name of Hite, in a secluded spot near New Albany. The amateur detective borrowed $300 and when the negotiations with Hite reached a point where the moneys were to be exchanged he told Hite he was under arrest. Hite knocked Marshall down with a stone and battered his victim's head into a pulp. When Marshall was found horribly beaten several hours later, the $300 he had taken to the spot was gone. Physicians at the hospital declare there is no chance for his recovery.

CATHOLIC YOUNG MEN.

Boston, Sept. 1.—At to day's session of the Catholic Young Men's national union John P. Hogan, of Philadelphia, read a paper on "Imminent Danger." Hogan criticized existing economic conditions and declared the overbearing aggression of wealth was begetting bitter reaction from the laboring classes. Resolutions expressed sorrow at the death of Pope Leo XIII and joy at the appointment of Pius X; declaring the state should encourage the co-operation of religion in its teaching, and to that end should extend its aid for secular instruction to those schools, and teaching of religious principles; heartily endorsing the American Federation of Catholic societies.

CONFESSION WAS FALSE.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—John W. Sluder, an employee of the Chicago Street Railway company, who on Monday night gave the police an alleged confession of circumstances surrounding the murderous raid of the company's barns Sunday morning, informed Chief O'Neill, in the presence of a number of newspaper men to night that all his startling yarns about the tragedy were false and that he was not present when the shooting took place. The chief declared Sluder's denial was no surprise, as ever since the man had been arrested he had been telling contradictory stories. A strange thing about Sluder now seems to be, as police view it, his familiarity with every move made by the robbers, the details of which Henry Biel, one of the clerks in the office alone was supposed to know, excepting the robbers themselves.

DOCTOR KILLS HIMSELF.

Mendota, Ill., Sept. 1.—Dr. Frank M. English, a practicing physician here for nearly thirty years, committed suicide in the city jail last night by cutting his throat with a penknife. He had been arrested shortly before, charged with having been instrumental in causing the death of Mrs. Leroy Smith, aged 18, a bride of three weeks, who died in a hospital at La Salle Sunday night.

THIRD ATTEMPT A FAILURE

NOT ENOUGH WIND TO MAKE A START.

What was Thought Would be Final Yacht Race in Cup Series had to be Postponed—Try Again To Day.

New York, Sept. 1.—The third attempt to sail the third and probably the final race of the series for the America's cup was a failure to day. There was not wind enough even to make it worth while to send the yachts across the line. A heavy pall of haze and mist hung over a sea with a surface like glass. Absolute calm was varied at intervals by faint drafts of wind from the southeast and southwest. The Reliance and Shamrock never dropped their tow lines, but with mainsails and club topsails set circled in ghostly fashion about and through the fleet. At 10:30 the committee signalled the start would be postponed until later in the day. C. Oliver Iselin impatiently paced the deck of the Reliance and Designer Five was the center of a little group of sailing advisers on the Shamrock. There was no sign of either wind or lifting of the foggy haze when at 12:30 the committee asked assent of the racing skippers to postpone and, securing it, signalled that the race was off and that another attempt to sail it would be made to-morrow.

RIFLE CONTEST TO DAY.

Seagirt, Sept. 1.—One hundred riflemen are here preparatory to the opening of the national rifle contest to-morrow. HAY FEVER

Many Victims This Year—Say the Disease Is Very Uncomfortable.

Hay fever sufferers are now in the midst of their misery. Those fortunate enough to possess the means of travel and life away from homes have already broken for the far north, where only relief may be found for this disease. Jacksonville has its quota of fever victims. Those who can afford it are already away. Those unfortunate enough to be bound at home by business or lack of finances must endure the tortures of this malady. There is never any failure of the hay fever crop. It is ready for harvest to the day. It is always a bumper yield, except sometimes it is more so than ever. Frosts come earlier some years than others, which relieve matters somewhat, but the appearance of the white winged angel never comes too soon.

With the return of the season those afflicted with hay fever begin their period of dread, which is as hard to bear sometimes as the actual thing. This year the western country, including Chicago, has escaped measurably as compared with other years. The opinion of the physicians is that the escape of some of the earlier sufferers did not argue that there will be no epidemic during the closing days of September. One of the peculiarities of the hay fever affliction, with its sneezes, irritated eyes and noses and asthmatic spasms in the latter stages, is that it comes about the same time of the year on each patient. The rumors from all over the country that there is existing this season a condition that will give them immunity from the affliction is generally looked upon by these with a great deal of incredulity, but with a desire that it may be true. Some people have their hay fever earlier than others, and there are some seasons when there is a variation of the time. The escape which so many have had during the earlier part of the season is believed by old sufferers to be on account of one of their seasonal variations of the disease.

There are in Jacksonville a number of sufferers who yearly sneeze, wipe their eyes and gasp for breath, through the four or five weeks that the trouble is on and many of these are members of the National Hay Fever association, a body organized to study the disease and conduct with each other over their troubles. This association meets every year, and the printed reports of the proceedings and discussions thereat have added a mass of information to the knowledge of the affliction.

The medical profession has known the disease or affliction under its distinct classification, since 1819, when Dr. John Bostock described it. Since that time it has occupied a goodly share of the attention of the profession of the public at the season when it prevails. The name of hay fever or hay cold was given it from the dust or pollen which is carried through the air from newly mown hay. This disease certainly—the physicians believe—causes the hay fever in some cases. Modern investigators believe that there are a number of vegetable growths, which in a particular stage of development, throw off pollen or other fragments that cause the trouble. As for the cure of it, that is what the world is looking for. One of the physicians who has studied the trouble closely, and whose work is regarded with favor by the profession, advises a change of location by the sufferer from the lower altitude at which hay fever is usually developed to a higher one of at least 800 feet. This doctor wrote that those who live near the sea level, perhaps, for there are hundreds of localities above his 800 feet altitude where thousands of hay fever patients sneeze and wheeze year after year.

While the fact that the hay fever never develops at sea, and that certain localities, either in high altitudes, by large bodies of water, or no barren rocky islands, give relief and even prevent the trouble from coming on, has led to the conclusion that the exact cause is due to vegetation, and medicine can do nothing more than render its ill effects less disagreeable until the first hard frosts comes. The black frost is the death of the hay fever, and the cold and all disagreeable symptoms disappear at once with the cold weather. This would seem to indicate that it would thrive in a warm climate, but the very reverse is true. It is practically unknown in the southern states, and the same is true of the extreme northern part of Canada.

Physicians say that external causes the vegetation dust, for example, bring on the trouble, but that there is a constitutional predisposition to it, so that both the hay or weed pollen and the constitutional condition are necessary to produce the affliction. This is the reason why so many persons are afflicted while those around them, and exposed to the same condition of climate, diet, and who, possibly, inhale as much pollen as they, are never troubled. The eccentricities of hay fever have been noted so fully that medical skill can now assure very much greater and certain relief than formerly. Many sufferers begin to prepare their selves for the coming of the fever or cold by a course of medicine which fortifies the constitution, and this makes the attack lighter and more endurable. The one remedy, though, that finds the most favor and which seems to be approved by experience, is to get to some of the favored spots where it does not come. Mackinac Island is one of these, and at Petoskey thousands of hay fever sufferers arrive every year just before the day when their attack is due to commence. The keepers of the resorts have come to know the hay fever sufferers so well that they can tell when to look for each. A boarding house or hotel keeper makes arrangements of rooms with this end in view. From the experience of many years each knows the exact day that every fever victim expects his attack, and knows equally well that just at that time

HAY FEVER

One of the troubles of the hay fever is that sometimes a change of location, even if no more than a dozen miles is gone, will give quick relief. There are instances where sufferers depend implicitly on this sort of treatment.

In these cases there is no change of altitude of importance, nor is there a change of surroundings that might strike one as material. The hay fever germ or pollen seems to be able to work in one place, however, and not in the other. If the localities thus sought were free from hay fever, there might be a chance to find the cause, but there are numerous instances where sufferers have gone into localities where one out of ten were struggling with the disease and the newcomers will find relief while the others will have to let it run its course.

Concerning the remedies used for hay fever, medical writers are just now warning parents against nostrums which contain cocaine. To apply that drug to the mucous membrane is of course attended with the same danger that follows its use in other ways—the danger of forming a "habit," which experience has shown is one of the worst which can come to man.

The physicians have classified the June colds or rose fevers as analogous to hay fever. The former attacks its victims during the latter part of May or first of June and runs until July, when it lets up. The hay fever, however, comes on about the third or fourth week in August and runs till fall, as has been said. The first named disease is similar to the English hay cold, or hay fever and may be the same thing.

In trying to find a reason for the apparent immunity of the great bulk of sufferers this season, some theorists have attributed it to the drought. This excessively hot, dry period, which existed throughout the country west of the Mississippi river for several weeks, came at the right time. It is said, to prevent the maturity of the rag weeds and golden rod. There was, consequently, none to fly about and be taken into the sensitive nostrils of the fever victims, and reports during the earlier part of the season from that section showed that the usual victims were escaping their regular infliction of hay fever woes. There is a disposition among hay fever experts, patients and physicians to wait further developments before exulting. They are convinced that there is less of the trouble this season so far than usual, but are not prepared to say that it has merely postponed and not entirely stricken its dates from the list. They are disposed to bear in mind the old Arabic injunction which warns men to not presume to say any day has been a happy one until after the sun has set.

USEFUL PRACTICE

War Maneuvers Mean Much in Soldierly Training.

The war maneuvers at Portland, Me., are more than army and navy drill. Merc drill is training in precision and efficiency, but not necessarily in resourcefulness. The maneuvers on the New England coast, however, are in the nature of that experience which develops resourcefulness and mastery on untoward conditions and circumstances.

Drill is preparation to meet an enemy some time in the future. The soldiers go through the manual and execute maneuvers with an imagined enemy, acting according to rule in front. Drill, without experience in battle, leaves on the mind of the soldier the impression that perfect mechanism will in itself prevail over an enemy. He learns later that it will not. He learns that an alert and intelligent enemy creates new combinations without reference to established rules or the convenience of the opposing army, and that success in war depends upon how unexpected conditions and circumstances are met.

For example, the zouave companies in the months preceding the civil war were trained to run and climb and maneuver in a picturesque way. At Fort Donelson some of these companies were ordered to charge a rebel line on a steep hill. Their training served them well. They knew how to climb. They put aside all the rest of their drill and went up the hill, just as in 1898 other well-drilled soldiers went up San Juan hill in a scramble. Every non-essential drill was sacrificed to the exigency of war.

So in the maneuvers of the New England coast, the army and fleet are acting under the conditions of war. The attack on the forts is made by a fleet as intelligently directed as any foreign fleet could be. The forts are manned by men who know this, commanded by officers who know that intelligence and resourcefulness on one side must be met by intelligence and resourcefulness on the other.

If the maneuvers were for show, searchlights would be used theoretically, the gunners would pretend to fire the heavy guns, sailors, marines and soldiers would be hurried through stipulated formations, and the country would not be benefited. As it is, however, searchlights have been under the severe tests of actual war. The officers know what kind of light can be used to best advantage in detecting the approach of an enemy, and know that apparatus used last year is not the best.

The guns that have been idle in the forts have been in use and the men who man the forts have learned how to use the guns effectively in the hurry and stress of engagement. More important still, navy and army have learned the lesson that comes through unity of purpose and in action. There has been to each a test of strength in meeting an enemy. The whole question of attack and defense has been studied under war conditions, and the experience will be more valuable than long cruises for the sake of the navy or methodical drill for the army.

HUNTING SEASON OPEN

Nimrods Can Now Proceed to Slaughter Game—Most Hunting at Present Confined to Water Fowl.

Nimrods are scheduled for journeys to the stubble and the tall grass this month. Beginning bright and early Sept. 1 the home of the prairie chicken and the duck are slated for a disturbance. In Illinois the hunting will have to be confined to water fowl, as the prairie chicken has been given a vacation for four years by the legislature. Later, between Nov. 10 and Dec. 20, the local hunters can get some excitement by flushing the toothsome quail, but at present there will not be much doing in the hunting line this side of the Mississippi.

It is to the western prairies that the hunter will hie himself. The Dakotas, Iowa, Nebraska and Minnesota will be the sportsmen's paradise during the next few weeks. Nebraska's open season for prairie chickens does not begin until Oct. 1, but as the state furnishes excellent hunting grounds for water fowl sport will not be lacking west of the Missouri. Minnesota and the Dakotas will entertain the majority of the small game hunters. Advances from the northwest report game plentiful. In certain localities in Minnesota and the Dakotas prairie chickens abound this year, while in the extreme northern portion of Minnesota and Wisconsin ducks and geese are reported in large numbers.

In all of the states mentioned licenses are required for non-resident hunters. In some states the game wardens are active, while in others they are more lax. Minnesota is credited with an excellent official in State Game Warden Fullerton. Sportsmen in the main respect him and where clashes occur the fault usually lies with some overbearing deputy. Non-resident hunters have frequently complained in the past that resident hunters are favored by the deputy game wardens and that the officials try to make it as unpleasant as possible for those who travel hundreds of miles to kill chickens. It is charged that pot hunters, native to the states where they operate, are permitted to ply their vocation unmolested, while non-resident hunters are subjected to all manner of annoyances.

Many parties will go to the wilds of the northwest. A majority who fancy this sort of sport will go to South Dakota, which affords the best sport for the hunters.

Northwest of St. Paul, as well as west, are excellent chicken grounds. The chicken crop in Iowa, almost depleted a few years ago, has improved during the last year or two, and thousands will be on hand this season.

A few will go north to meet the ducks going south, but the general duck season will not be in full swing until a month later, when frost and cold weather close the feeding grounds in northern Minnesota and Wisconsin and further north.

Some of the more important laws governing the hunting of game follow: In Minnesota the open season for prairie chicken starts Sept. 1 and lasts until Nov. 1. Wild duck, wild game, etc., can be shot between Sept. 1 and Dec. 1, while the killing of quail and partridge is legal only between Oct. 15 and Dec. 15.

In Illinois partridge and prairie chicken cannot be hunted for the next four years and the open season for quail is only between Nov. 10 and Dec. 20, but wild geese, wild duck, etc., can be shot from Sept. 1 to April 15.

In the Dakotas the open season for almost all the small game begins Sept. 1, but with varying length. In North Dakota the season on quail is closed until Sept. 1, 1905, but prairie chickens are free to the sportsman from Sept. 1 to Oct. 15, and wild geese, wild duck and other water fowl may be hunted from Sept. 1 until May 1.

The prairies of Iowa will abound with hunters. The open season for prairie chicken lasts from Sept. 1 to Dec. 1, for pheasant, ruffed grouse, quail, etc., from Nov. 1 to Jan. 1, and for wild duck, etc., from Sept. 1 to April 15.

In Nebraska sportsmen can begin shooting the wild ducks, wild geese, etc., on Sept. 1 and keep at the sport until April 15. The open season for prairie chickens, sage chickens and grouse, however, does not begin until Oct. 1 and lasts only until Nov. 30 and the season for quail begins on Nov. 1 and ends the last day of the same month.

Wisconsin is closed to the quail or pheasant hunter until September, 1905, but the season for wild geese, ducks, etc., opens Sept. 1 and lasts until Jan. 1.

In the lower peninsula of Michigan the open season for partridge and quail lasts from Oct. 20 to Nov. 30, while in the upper peninsula of the same state the sportsmen can go after partridge any time between Oct. 1 and Nov. 1 and for ducks, geese and other water fowl between Oct. 1 and Nov. 30.

In Indiana quail, grouse and prairie chicken can be hunted from Nov. 10 until Jan. 1.

EARL SUMMERS IS DEAD.

Litchfield, Sept. 1.—Earl Summers, the negro who was shot on the afternoon of Aug. 11 in the Atlas saloon by William R. Fryman, died at St. Francis hospital Monday morning at 11:30 o'clock. His condition for several days past was considered as favorable. From the first his lower extremities were paralyzed. Summers was shot by William R. Fryman, a bartender in the employ of William Emmons, at the Atlas saloon, on the afternoon of Aug. 11. Fryman was given his preliminary on Monday, Aug. 17, and after the introduction of the evidence was discharged. It was the general opinion at that time that Fryman was justified in his action.

JOS. R. MILLER DEAD

Thrown from his Wagon While Driving Home.

Joseph R. Miller, aged 68 years, an old resident of Williamsville and father-in-law of Hon. Charles E. Seiby, of Springfield, former speaker of the house, fell from his wagon at 3:30 Monday afternoon on the Peoria road, just north of the Springfield fair grounds while on his way home and sustained injuries from which he died a half hour later at the Springfield hospital. When he was taken to the hospital it was discovered that he had sustained a broken neck, both wrists broken and two severe cuts on the top of his head.

A DESIRABLE LINE.

The Nickel Plate road, with its eastern connections—the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western and West Shore and Boston & Maine railroads—is considered by those who have patronized it as a most desirable line between Chicago and New York, Boston and other eastern points, and takes its place among the first class lines leading eastbound from Chicago. It is operating three through first class trains, all daily, and equipped with modern improvements, for the convenience and comforts of the traveling public, and has succeeded, to a remarkable degree, in pleasing its patrons, growing in popularity every day. One of its attractive features and thoroughly appreciated by the traveling public, is its dining car service, meals being served on American club plan, ranging in price from 35c to $1. Also service a la carte. Colored porters are in charge to look after the comfort of passengers in coaches, and especially to assist ladies traveling with children. No excess fare on any train on Nickel Plate road. All passenger trains arrive at and depart from the LaSalle street station, Chicago, on the elevated loop. When going east, try the Nickel Plate road. Have you tried Claus' 20c new blend of coffee? It is delicious.

A short time since Judge Epler called attention to the fact that forty years ago there was a frost the latter part of August that pretty much killed the corn and did other damage. There was scarcely any good grain in this whole region and the same was true over a large scope of country.

Lambert with a large attendance of members and guests. CROP CONDITIONS

Weather of Past Week has Improved Corn—Rain in Nearly all of State.

The weather and crop bulletin issued by the Illinois weather bureau for the week ending yesterday is encouraging, as the weather has improved the corn. The bulletin says:

Rain in ample quantities occurred in the central and the northern districts, and in portions of the southern tier of counties a condition of drought prevails, and considerable injury to vegetation has ensued. The rainfall, except in the section mentioned, has been above the seasonable average. In localities in the northern district it was excessive. High temperatures prevailed the first part of the week; there was a decided change to cooler the latter part.

Threshing was interrupted on account of the rain and some grain in shock has been damaged. The soil is mostly in excellent condition for plowing, and the work is well under way. In a few localities seeding has already been done.

Corn has made advancement in the central and the northern districts under the influence of the warmth of the first part of the week and generous rainfall. Some correspondents report that while the crop is growing rapidly it is ripening slowly. Complaint is made from the southern district of injury by drought and the ravages by chinch bugs.

Some oats in shock, in the northern district, have rotted or sprouted on account of wet weather. Threshing has been practically suspended during the week.

Clover hulling is progressing with generally satisfactory yield. Pastures have been greatly benefited by the warm weather and rains, and are making vigorous growth. Buckwheat is in bloom and promising. Sweet potatoes are showing well. Apples are scarce and of inferior quality. Grapes are ripening and a fair yield is promised in some localities. Melons of good quantity are plentiful.

The reports from central Illinois counties are as follows:

Christian—Fine rain on 27th; will be sufficient for the maturing of corn; most of the corn will not be safe from frost before Oct. 1; pastures beginning to grow; no fall plowing done yet.

Cokes—Considerable rain the 27th; corn still green; early broom corn ready to harvest; pastures doing well; millet crop good; second crop of clover not yet ready to cut; apples still dropping; grape crop fair; ground in fine condition for plowing.

Edgar—Weather warm, with showers on the 27th; fall plowing progressing slowly on account of dryness of ground; water getting scarce; oats threshing done, with yield below average; potatoes about an average crop; fruit scarce; corn doing fairly well, but not filling in best condition, and will not be out of danger before Sept. 20.

Effingham—Weather conditions continue favorable for corn, pastures and seedling much timothy has been sown and much more will be sown; a large part of the hay crop has been baled; threshing all done; melons and tomatoes still doing well.

Hancock—Three inches of rain in latter part of week; grass and corn looking much better; late corn will be good crop if frost is very late; fall plowing progressing nicely.

McLean—Heavy rains facilitated fall plowing; threshing done; not much oats sold yet; old corn moving gradually to market; corn, meadows and pastures doing well; light crop of winter apples in prospect and size of fruit small.

Menard—Fine rains and hot weather materially improved condition of corn; with favorable weather the corn crop will mature with average yield and quality; pastures greatly improved; fall plowing in progress.

Morgan—Very warm first of week; good rain on 27th; much stubble being plowed; rain will retard ripening of corn; potatoes being dug—crop light; apples poor; late gardens good; second crop of clover fair and full of seed.

Pike—Good rain on 27th; weather favorable for growth of corn; pastures improving.

Tazewell—Excessive rains past week; fall plowing progressing nicely; clover in bloom; potatoes reported below average.

Adams—Past week hard on corn until good rain of 1.50 inches on 27th; rain will aid fall plowing for wheat, which was suspended on account of drought; corn and pastures greatly benefited.

Brown—Good rain on 27th of benefit to late corn; pastures and plowing; but little threshing done in this part of the county; early corn will be short crop, but with late frost the late corn may yield fair returns; potatoes very light crop.

TOOK CARBOLIC ACID

Mrs. Arthur Andres Attempts to End Her Life.

Mrs. Arthur Andres, who has been living at the McKinley hotel on North Main street, attempted suicide Tuesday morning about 7 o'clock by taking carbolic acid. The woman had taken nearly an ounce of the acid and when Dr. J. Allmond Day, who was called in the case arrived, her lips and tongue were an ashy white, characteristic of the effects of such a poison and she was also in convulsions. The timely use of a stomach pump is probably what saved her life. At 10 o'clock she had so far recovered as to be out of immediate danger, though what serious result may follow cannot be known.

Mrs. Andres was in a despondent mood over the disappearance of her husband, to whom she was married in this city on May 6, 1911 by Squire N. Z. Reinbach, of Franklin. Her married life has not been happy and Sunday her husband was arrested on a warrant, charging brutal treatment of his wife, mother and sister, but later the complaint was withdrawn and Andres plead guilty to a plain drunk and was fined by Squire Reid $2 and costs. After his release from the city prison Monday he disappeared and his whereabouts have since been unknown to his wife and family. It was due to his absence that his wife made the attempt on her life. The case is a sad one, as Mrs. Andres has just passed her 50th birthday, a time when life should have a brighter tinge.

Scott, Water Superintendent.

KILLED BY STRAY SHOT.

A horse belonging to Scott & Co., that was running in Cherry's pasture on East State street, was injured by the stray shot of some hunters Monday and had to be killed. The animal crazed by pain ran to the Mauvaisterre creek, where it mired and when pulled out it was found that the left hind leg had been badly shattered above the knee.

The shooting was doubtless the result of carelessness and such practices cannot be too vigorously condemned. It is understood a reward of $25 has been offered for the identification of the parties who did the shooting.

AT DECATUR

Extensive Preparations Being Made There for Labor Day.

A big Jacksonville delegation will attend the Labor day celebration to be held in Decatur, Monday, Sept. 7. A round trip rate of $1.25 has been secured. The number of people from Jacksonville will be very large. A special train has been chartered, and another one will be used if necessary. It will not be a surprise to the Decatur union men if 1,500 or 2,000 Jacksonville people go on the excursion.

Three bands will be hired for the occasion; the Goodman band of Decatur, the Illinois Watch Company's band of Springfield and Jeffries' Concert band of this city. At night there will be a dance in the pavilion. A big orchestra, selected from the Goodman band, will furnish the music. The evening train will leave at 10:30, so there will be plenty of time for the dancers.

The bands will be divided up and placed at intervals in the line. The labor unions from Jacksonville will march ahead of the Decatur men. Eight of the unions have signified their intention of having floats in the parade. Probably a few others will spring a surprise by having them also.

The athletic events arranged will be as follows:
Foot race for men.
Ring race for women.
Barrel race.
Egg race.
Throwing contest for women.
Fat men's race.
Foot race for women.
Wheelbarrow race for men.
Wheelbarrow race for women.
Women's hitching contest.

The celebration will certainly be enjoyable and largely attended.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

There has been quite an increase in memberships into the association during the past few days, owing to the physical department opening Oct. 1, and all the classes will be started at that time. Physical Director Coughlin has about completed the fall and winter schedule and will include base ball and foot ball.

The educational committee expect to have a fuller course of studies this winter and now is the time to arrange to take up those studies you most need to make your life one for a larger place in the world.

Every father and mother in the city can better afford a membership in the Y. M. C. A. and get in return a strong healthy, well developed boy or young man, whose social, physical and spiritual life is well fitted for life's larger battles than use a correction in the days to come.
